WHITE WINES

NORTHERN ITALY

White wines here tend to be very dry and medium to full bodied. This reflects both the cooler climate and the mountainous terrain. The Scaia Bianco is very aromatic like a Sauvignon Blanc. The Pinot Grigio is made in Friuli, a region known for the quality of its white wine. The Ća Del Magro is a full bodied blend of six grapes that has achieved Tre Bichierri, the top Italian Wine Award. It also won best value wine of the year.

SCAIA BIANCO, 2014 Tenuta Sant' Antonio, Veneto	8.50	23.50	38.00
PINOT GRIGIO, 2014 Di Lenardo, Friuli	9.50	26.00	43.00
ĆA DEL MAGRO, 2012 Monte Del Frá, Veneto	10.00	27.00	45.00

CENTRAL ITALY

White wines here range from dry and crisp to more full bodied, reflecting how the climate changes as you move south. The Orvieto is a well-balanced wine from Umbria. The Trebbiano from Abruzzo is lush and buttery.

ORVIETO, 2014 Antinori, Umbria	7.50	21.50	34.00
TREBBIANO ALDIANO, 2014 Cantina Tollo, Abruzzo	10.00	27.00	45.00

SOUTHERN ITALY

Here, the wines tend to be full bodied often with an interesting herbaceousness. The Vermentino is rich with a touch of honey in the finish. The Falanghina from Campania is medium bodied with a crisp edge while the Greco is more elegant, reflecting the Tufo soil in the region.

	GLASS	½ LITRE	BOTTLE
FALANGHINA, 2012 Villa Matilde, Campania	9.00	25.00	40.00

RED WINES

NORTHERN ITALY

Some of the most beautiful wines in the world are found in Northern Italy. Styles vary greatly. The Dolcetto is medium bodied, intense and layered. The Ruche is an unusual wine with an aroma of roses bul well balanced fruit in the palate. The Ripasso is rich and velvety, made partially in the style of an Amarone, where the grapes are dried and the wine is made from raisins. The Gattinara from Piemonte is made from the Nebbiolo grape in the style of a Barolo.

	GLASS	½ LITRE	BOTTLE
RIPASSO, 2013 Montresor, Veneto	13.00	36.00	55.00

GATTINARA, 2009 Travaligni, Piemonte			100.00
AMARONE, 2012 Montresor, Veneto			100.00

TUSCANY & CENTRAL ITALY

This region is known for Chianti, which is made primarily from Sangiovese, but is now famous for Super Tuscans such as the Dogajolo, Crognolo and Oreno. The Dogajolo adds Cabernet Sauvignon to the blend while the Crognolo is mostly Sangiovese but more full bodied than Chianti. The Oreno is an outstanding blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Petit Verdot. The Montiano from Umbria is 100% Merlot and is soft and elegant. Both these wines have achieved Tre Bichierri, the top Italian wine award.

SOUTHERN ITALY & THE ISLANDS

Wines from these regions are intense and spicy. The heat, ocean breezes, hills and mountains produce blockbuster wines such as the Marziacanale Taurasi made from the Aglianico grape which rivals the Barolo of the north. The Nero d'avola is spicy like a Shiraz. and is also found in the Tancredi . However, this wine also adds Tannat and Cabernet Sauvignon to the mix.
